Is This Casino Techonology Legal?

You've read about poker bots and what they can do for you. But is deploying a 1 one illegal?

The robot army

The existence of poker bots is slowly but surely having an increasing impact on the world of 1 online poker. It's a piece of software that an unscrupulous person uses to play poker for them at an online 1 poker site.

The theory is this. Humans are susceptible to being made of meat, and so we forget stuff. But a 1 bot never forgets, and is constantly building up data about the players it is facing. It makes decisions based not 1 only on the mathematical probability of the success of the hand, but also on the actions of the people it 1 is playing against.

It is thinking about when they fold, when they raise, when they bluff – in short, everything a 1 truly skilled poker player should be thinking about. Only the bot is completely fearless and ruthless, because it never experiences 1 adrenaline rushes and it can't be tilted.

Therefore, these bots will always eventually win. That's the theory anyway.

The reality is, the 1 bots' strategy is based on rules that a human programmer must define. Thus they are very beatable.

If it were that 1 simple, there wouldn't be a legal issue here. The problem is that bots cheat.

Sneaky little cheats

The real

difficulty with poker 1 bots is that they have now evolved to the point where they collude with each other. A skilled bot programmer 1 – or, since such products are now commercially available, a bot purchaser – can set up a number of bots 1 that use their own server to communicate with each other.

This means you could have four bots at a poker table, 1 all sharing their hole cards with each other. Any human player at the table is going to be at an 1 instant disadvantage, and will probably be fleeced in very short order.

Suddenly bots became a real threat to the online poker 1 community. How do you know if you're on a cold streak or if you're being systematically relieved of your chips 1 by an army of little cheating robots?

This has to be illegal.

It's got to be against the law, right?

Bizarrely, it's not. 1 It's against the terms of service of the poker sites, definitely. For example, Party Poker allegedly employs more than 100 1 people whose sole task is to scan for and eliminate accounts with behaviour that suspiciously looks like poker bot activity 1 – it is in fact detectable.

It's clear that these bots hurt poker players, which is why online poker companies work 1 so hard to get rid of them. But they're not actually breaking the law. They're just being evil, which isn't 1 in and of itself illegal.

You see, the problem is that most online poker companies are forced to operate in a 1 legal grey area. The majority of their business comes from countries like America, who have specific laws discouraging the practise 1 of online gambling anyway. Efforts are under way to get unfair laws like the UIGEA overturned, but until that happens, 1 lawmakers aren't about to help poker sites police the terrain.
