About Bus Games

Bus Games reflect the global passion for buses that begins at a very young age. A survey by an American media company revealed a surprising trend among elementary school children who aspired not to conventional roles such as heroes, policemen, and firefighters, but to be school bus drivers.

The yearning extends beyond children, as adults also find themselves drawn to bus games. This is purely due to our association with buses as a means of long-distance group travel, discussions, singing sessions, and attention-grabbing games. The bus driver is often a lively, gregarious individual who will help you with your belongings.

Interestingly, the term 'bus' comes from the fusion of two words, 'car' and 'omnibus'. Here, 'omnibus' is a horse-drawn vehicle that served as a precursor to the modern bus. The first bus was invented in 1801 with a capacity of eight passengers and was powered by steam.

What types of bus games are there?

The varieties of bus games are quite diverse and include different areas such as city buses, international buses, tour buses, school buses and prison buses. Each bus category offers a unique gaming experience either in the form of simulating public transportation, overcoming obstacles on challenging terrains, tackling unruly kids, or dealing with dangerous criminal transfers.

They teach important life skills such as time management, route optimization, multitasking, and dealing with difficult situations, all while ensuring a smooth ride for your virtual passengers. Israeli Ofensiva Militar en el Sur de Gaza: Normalización de la Violencia y Fatalismo

La normalización de las muertes masivas causadas por el ejército israelí en el sur de Gaza ha llevado a un sentido de fatalismo entre la población local, según Sam Rose, director de planificación de la agencia de socorro palestina Unrwa.

Rose hizo estas declaraciones después de que una escuela de Unrwa en Nuseirat fuera bombardeada por las fuerzas israelíes, dejando al menos 33 muertos, incluidas 12 mujeres y niños.

"Cuando todo el mundo vive en condiciones abarrotadas y superpobladas, siempre hemos dicho que sería inevitable que ocurrieran incidentes como el que sucedió anoche en la escuela de Nuseirat."

Violaciones de las Reglas de Guerra

Rose, recientemente regresado a Londres después de cinco semanas en Gaza, dijo: "Había alrededor de 6,000 personas refugiadas en esa escuela. Hay reglas de guerra a las que llamamos a todas las partes en el conflicto a que se adhieran: para proteger la inviolabilidad de nuestras instalaciones. También hay principios de distinción y de proporcionalidad."

"Las personas habrían estado refugiadas en el patio de la escuela en las condiciones más desesperadas y no habría habido advertencia de que este ataque tendría lugar. Sucedió en medio de la noche, alrededor de las 2 am."

Rose señaló que este tipo de incidentes se han vuelto tan comunes que casi se han normalizado. En conflictos anteriores, un solo incidente como este habría causado conmoción y indignación y habría sido recordado para siempre. Sin embargo, en este conflicto, parece que será reemplazado por otro en unos días a menos que todo termine. Por lo tanto, casi se vuelve cotidiano y rutinario que estas cosas están sucediendo. Hemos normalizado la horror."
